LONDON, 1st March The Parnell commission reassembled and resumed its investigation this morning. The excitemont has subsided. The court refused to allow Houston, the secretary of the Irish Loyal and l'atriotic Union, to make a personal statement or hand the court a written document, on the ground that the time was inconvenient. O'Kelly, Davitt, and Campbell, Parnell's se creary, swore they did not write the letters as oribed to them by Pigott. McCarthy denied that he had an interview with Pigott. Lewis the solicitor for Parnell, testified that he tele Pigott the letters not being negotiable he could not be presecuted for forgery, but was liable to proscention for obtaining money under false pretences. Witness declared he had not promised Pigott a farthing. Labouchere testified that he never offered

Pigott £1,000 if he would swear that the letters were forged, as sworn to by Pigott before the commission opened. Somebody named O'Brien offered him a packet of letters said to have been w. il ion by Egan and Parnell. He did not know - Soames, solicitor for the Times, produced the documents on which Pigott's ovidence was based. He said every statement Pigott had made had be a submitted to the court. Lowis was recalled and testified that he was convinced that Pigott was a forger before he saw him. Houston announced his readiness to submit to, crossexamination and give socurity: for continued attendance before the commission. Attornoy-General Webster urged that Houston be immediately cross-examined to onable the commission to have all the facts before it.

Sir Charles Russell appealed to the Court to exercise its discretion under the Commission act, and make an interim report on the genuineness of the letters that had been put in evidence. Attorney-General Webster, for the Times, urged that as Russell had stated that there was a She is a very handsome and accomplished foul conspiracy behind Houston and Pigett, the cross-examination of Houston should be finished 1881, at a reception given to the delegation before the report was framed. Sir Charles Enssell :- "But we have nothing to do now with anything except the genuineness

That will be decided at the next sitting.

Attorney-General Webster occupied the remainder of the day with reading extracts from the Irish World and Freeman's Journal regard. ing Davitt. Russell finally protested that the Attorney General's only object was to have passages published in order to arouse prejudice against the Parnellites. The commission adjourned. PIGOTT'S SUICIDE.

statement that the snicide was Pigott. When arrested he took the situation coolly and threw the officers off the scent with the excuse that he wished to get his overcoat. He retired to an alcove and there shot himself. He died instantly. His head was terribly disfigured. THE CANADIAN PACIFO.

WINNIPEG, 20th February. Sir George Baden Powell, M.P. for Liverpool, said to-day that he would argo upon the British Government the claims of the Canadian in the events which led to the death of Archduke Pacific as the national highway to the East, believing it would effect a saving of three weeks' time for English merchants. He thought by proper management Canada could secure much of the trade that now goes to San Francisco, and thinks the Government should take up the Australian cable scheme.
